Army Has Already Been Offered to the Allies

SMALL CONTINGENT MAY GO OVER SOON

Haste Will Be Made Because of the Moral

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, May 1. — The United States stands ready to send an army to Europe whenever the Allies deem it wise to divert the necessary shipping from trans-porting food to transportation of

It has been learned definitely that the Government has offered the Allies troops, but suggested that the alarming shortage of world shipping may make it impractical to send them at once.

In spite of objections of the general staff to putting any American forces on the firing line before the great war army has been raised and trained, the administration has determined that the small contingent carnestly desired by France for moral effect shall be sent as soon as possible. The general belief here is that the way will soon be found.

General Newburn stated that he would lay before the militia department the opinion expressed.

If there are left here men of sound bodies and healthy minds, can they stand by and see the gaps being made without filling them? If every man in the dominion of military age was registered and then examined before an impartial tribunal as to whether he could best serve the country by stayling at home or going to the front, I am sure that the necessary men-required could be got without the business of the country suffering very much. The scheme of selective drafts should be as applicable here as in the United States, and in Britain the tribunal passes on all cases that dispute

OTTAWA. May 1.—The budget debate was continued in the house today.
J. G. Turriff's amendment to make free wheat permanent is not yet disposed of by a division.
J. A. Robb, of Huntington, proposed a substitute amendment that free bran and shorts be also given to the farmers, but he was ruled out of order because an amendment to an amendment cannot be moved to the motion to go into committee of ways and means. It is understood that a vote will be taken on the free wheat amendment on Thursday and that other amendments will probably be moved by the opposition.
The speakers today were Sir Thompso White, George McCraney, John Webster, George Kyte, J. A. Robb, James Morris, George Thompson and II. Boulay.

The minister of finance asked the house to reject Mr. Turriff's amendment. It was trivial, he said, and conceived for political purposes. Sir Thomas said there had been no departure from the traditional policy of the Conservative party in granting free wheat; and no surrender of Canada's control over her fiscal affairs. The reciprocity agreement, he said, was both an economic and political mistake.

Mr. McCraney said the act of the government in granting free wheat was in the national interest. The delay in bringing it about had not been in the national interest.

James Morris, Conservative member for Chateaugay, expressed the personal view that free wheat was an emergency war measure.

MATINEE OF ALASKAN

PILMS AT EMPIRE.

Dr. Leonard S. Sugden and his "Lure of Alaska" films will be the attraction at the Empire Theatre this afternoon and lonight for the last time. The most unusual attraction of the season at the Empire Theatre seems to have been a box office magnet of merit which it would be difficult to duplicate. In eaking some of the pictures shown on the screen at the Empire this week, Dr. engden frequently took his life in his hands at precipitous heights and various angles. Some of the flims are revelations or what a determined camera man can do if the quarry is worth pursuit. The doctor's lecture is couched in a happy vein, and he shows himself somewhat of an entertainer as well as an accomplished lecturer.

"FRECKLES" IS HERE

One of the most important popularpriced Tofictings of the current season at the Empire Theatre is the presentation the last three nights and Saturday matinee this week of "Freckles," Neil Twomey's delightful deannatization of Gene Stratton Porter's charming story set to music.
The fact that there have been more readers of this story than any other book published in a decade—a fair estimate in the milllons—makes the dramatization of the utmost importance to the dramatic world.
"Freckles" as a song piny is stronger than "Freckles" as a story. The characters this season. It is being shown at the Majesty today and Thursday.

EMPRISS.—For the last time today. "The Feest of Life," the splendid serven vehicle which beasts of Clara Kimbail Young as its star, will be the feature at traction at the Empresa Theatre. On Monday and Thesday it played to hig houses, bigger than are usual on the first two days of the week, and the management advises that those who attend early today will have the choice of seats. Romance is the popular pastime of the natives of the Latin quarters of the world, and this five part production is seething with the romance as it is lived in the Latin lands. It is overflowing with real life, and picturesque to the extreme. Coming to the Empress for tomorrow only is the Triangle photoplay. "The Microscope Mystery," with Wilfred Lucas, who played the leading role in "The Rummy," again in the stellar part, with Constance Talmadage working opposite him. There is really something more than a good entertainment in this picture. It is a vital and much needed public lesson in the real value of most medicine shows. There has been much publicity given this phase of medicine during the past eight or ten years, largely through the persistent campaign waged against many patent medicine manufacturers by Collier's Weekly, and by the various advertising organizations.

MONABCH.—Few motion picture stars have established themselves so quickly in high public esteem as Sessue Hayakawa, the dapanese actor, who is seen on the screen at the Monarch Theatre today for the last time in "The Bottle Inn," a photo-dramatization of Recent Louis Revenson's story of the same name. This story concerns Lopaka, a young girl of soyal blood. Her irascible father refuses her hand until Lopaka can bring him two feather cloaks—an impossible stipulation as no one not of royal blood can touch a cloak under penalty of death. Rollins, a drunken sailor, fries to steal the girl, but as driven away by Lopake. He then concludes to go to Devil's Mountain and snare the bird from which the feathers for the cloaks are obtained. He goes to the volcano but finas no bird. He encounters an old dying priest of Pole, who agrees to give him a wishing bottle in which Kono, a brother of Pole, is confined. Kono will grant any wish to the bottle's owner, but anyone dying with the bottle still in his possession will go to hell, and the bottle must be sold for less than paid for it, otherwise it will come back with all its menace. Thus Word has come from Ottawa confirming the promotion to rank of lieutenant-colonel of Major George E. B. Begy, officer commanding the 19th battalion, Canadian denfec forces. He was captain with the 4th battalion at the battle of Ypres in 1915, when he lost an eye.

NOTABLE ADDRESSES MADE AT THE ANNUAL CONVOCATION OF ALBERTA COLLEGE, SOUTH

Graduates of Theology Presented With Their Diplomas and Winners of Medals and Scholarships Receive Their Prizes—Professor H. H. Gaets Delivers Convocational Address—American Consul Cox Also Speaks—Returned Soldier Student Urges Greater Effort

The convocation of Alberta college South, which took place last evening in the assembly hall of the college, was as usual, a memorable and striking event. The graduation class in theology received their diplomas and the students who had won prizes and medals, were publicly presented with their honors. The convocational address, by Prof. H. H. Gaetz, was one of the most strikingly original contributions to a branch of homileties which has come perflously near to which has come perilously near to being exhausted and, in addition, there

When to the music of the national anthem, the procession of the staff, graduates and students, together with the special guests of the occasion, marched into the purple and gold decked hall, the place was well filled with friends and relatives of the young people whose great day it was Judge H. C. Taylor, the chairman, led the line with His Honor, Lieutenant Governor Brett, followed by Dr. Riddell, the principal of the emant Governor Brett, followed by Dr. Riddell, the principal of the college and Rev Dr. Armstrong, pas-ter of McDougall Methodist church. After the devotional exercises Dr. Thomas of the staff read out the names of the winners of the various prizes and scholarships. (The list il be found in another pla.

Then came the ceremony of the presentation of the Senior Stick, emblematic of student self-government, by William Forshaw, the retiring custodian, to John Nightingale, who received it with becoming modesty. cowed it with becoming modesty.

History of "The Stick"
Dr. Riddell gave a history of the "stick," which was a rather formidable looking weapon. It had, he said, been carved from a portion of the pulpit occupied by the late Rev. Dr. John McDougall, when he delivered his first missionary sermon in Edmonton, a pulpit made by no less a manthan the late Senator Hardisty, another pigoneer of the province. The transfer of the stick was celebrated by the sounding of the college yell by the students, all aryngeal effort which made the windows rattle.

This year there were only 28. Of those appointed to college this year five have already enlisted. The work done in this department has been exceptionally gratifying. The post graduate work has been highly satisfactory.

Dr. Riddell said that although at the opening of the session the outlook was most discouraging, he was pleased to say that the college hoped to break even at the close of the year. One friend had promised $1,000 on condition that the college made its expenditure equal to its income. The principal said that he hoped to get the first were creed bound, mentally lazy, spiritually indolent, dead souls. They were Paul's "work brothers."

The latest evidence was that it was proposing to give this splendid building, for the welfare of the returned soldiers. It was a gift in which the university joined. The government would take over the building on May 15 at a consideration of less than 5½ per cent of the investment in building and equipment, without the grounds.

They were called the backbone of the churches because they generally "backed" everything the preacher tried to do and were "bone dry.."
The "meat eaters" were the kind of people who were of real use to the community. There were a lot of them outside the churches. Whether they went or not depended on who the preacher was and what he had to say. They did not go from a sense of duty.

went or not depended on who the preacher was and what he had to say. They did not go from a sense of duty. We couldn't drive men to church these days. We must draw them. The strong men are sometimes doubters. They are from Missouri. They want to be shown and won't accept anything simply on your authority. The speaker thought that doubt was one of the very best things in the world but that our churches had made doubting a crime.

As for the third classification Prof. Gaetz said that the "husk swallow-crs" were those individuals who were either too weak to resist evil or strong men who had made license of liberty. The speaker thought that the first kind, the weakly wicked, was almost past praying for but that there was hope for the other sort.

In conclusion he exhorted the graduates to help their fellow men to get into touch with the great reservoir of divine power, to profit by experience and, above all, to preach and tell the truth.

NEW BUSINESS MAYOR HENRY HAS BLOCK WILL BE BUILT SHORTLY

Wrecking Crews Will Start Work Shortly Demolishing Number of Small Buildings

The wrecking crews will shortly start work on a general demolition of a number of small buildings on First street and the corner of Jasper avenue on property owned by McDougall & Second, this being in preparation for the beginning of operations on a new business block to front on these two main thoroughfares in the business center of the city.

John A. McDougall informs the Bulletin that the new building will have a frontage of about 230 feet on Jasper avenue and about 70 feet on First street, the whoie to have a depth of about 70 feet. It is the intention to put in a foundation suitable for a lofty structure but to erect only two stories this year. Construction work will be started as soon as conditions permit this spring.

this year. Construction work will be started as soon as conditions permit this spring.

A number of small stores and buildings to the west of the present brick block of McDougall & Secord, on the corner of Jasper and First, will disappear to make way for the new building, some of these being the Carleton Cafe, Gilpin & McCombs, the Bon Marche, Twin City Taxi office, and barber and shoe shine shops. On First street, the building occupied by Alex. Martin will be removed. All of these places have figured for many years in Edmonton's business career.

In the words of Mr. McDougall, "They have served their time, and instead of this corner being the best in the city, it is anything but that so far as appearance goes, and we have decided to bring about a change, although the building will be added to when the war is over and conditions become normal again."

ELEVATOR HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Only Hard Fighting of Men Who Assembled Saved the Structure

The Gillespie Elevator Co's, elevaor at Spruce Grove, west of Edmonton, had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire Tuesday evening, and was only saved by the efforts of 25 or 39 men who were in the vicinity. They formed a bucket origade, and by this means managed to confine the fire to the small building containing the gasoline engine which supplies power to the elevator. There were four cars loaded with grain on the track, which were also in danger had the fire spread.

The origin of the fire is not known. The engineer happenes to have left the engine-house for a few minutes, and when he returned the place was a mass of flames. All the men in the neighborhood railled to the spot and although the engine-house, which was situated about 25 feet from the elevator, was burned down, the main structure was not damaged.

The city fire department was called, and a pumper made the run, 18 miles in 50 minutes, although the roads were very bad. The rire occurred at about 6 o'clock.

BANK ROBBERS PLEAD GUILTY; PUT BLAME ON THIRD MAN; SOLICITOR ASKS FOR LENIENCY

John Ryan Tells Story of Having Met One Adams in Calgary, Where Plan Was Hatched to Rob Bank of Hochelaga at St. Albert— Says that Adams Entered Bank While He and His Fellow Prisoner Waited Outside

The District Court reporter lifted his head and cocked up one eye apprehensively. You see, his head was just about on a level of the top of the witness box where inspector Nicholson was placing very gingerly one, two, three bottles. No, the bottles were not all empty.

"Generally known as soup," remarked the inspector, referring to the contents, "It is the explosive mixture commonly used by safe-breakers."

ture commonly used by safe-breakers."
His Honor Mr. Justice Crawford smiled and looked interested, but he did not offer to carry out a minute examination of the bottles.
Likewise, others in the court smiled, but there was nothing boisterous about their merriment, and the majority seemed to be taken on with the speculation as to what would happen if the inspector's coat sleeve should happen to brush one bottle over on to the floor.

lation as to what would happen it the inspector's coat sleeve should happen to brush one bottle over on to the floor.

Therefore there appeared a distinct air of relief when the exhibits, duly entered as such, had been carefully put away.

The bottles, together with certain other exhibits, formed part of the evidence given by the prosecution at the district court on Tuesday afternoon, when John Paul Ryan and George McIntyre were charged with breaking and entering the Bank of d'Hochelaga at St. Albert botween April 27th and 28th. Pleading guilty they were remanded for sentence until today.

It is generally known that on this occasion a determined effort was made to blow open the door of the safe, which contained some $1,000. The safe, however, resisted the efforts brought to force it open, and the alarm having been given, the burglars decamped.

The accused were both tall, well-built men, and it was pointed out by their counsel, H. H. Robertson, that they did not appear to bear the earmarks of the confirmed criminal.

Both Pleaded Guilty.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge and, when asked, elected to be tried

Both Pleaded Guilty.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge and, when asked, elected to be tried by the court and not by a jury. E. B. Cogswell prosecuted on behalf of the Crawford said that he would adjourn until 10:30 today for sentence.

H. H. Robertson, on behalf of the accused, said that the would adjourn until 10:30 today for sentence.

H. H. Robertson, on behalf of the accused, said that they pleaded guilty, but asked the judge to listen to their story. They wanted to explain how they came to be mixed up with those whom he would call the principals in the matter.

There are many features of the case that make it of more than ordinary interest, and this aspect was bore out by the story related by the two men, the chief details being given by the orisoner Ryan.

From his statement, about twelve or fourteen days ago, they came in Canada from Great Falls, Montana, where the two had previously become acquainted and they were together on the journey. Arriving at Calgary they stayed there looking around for work, and during their residence in the city, Ryan ran across a man named Adams whom he had previously known in Montana. Ryan asserted that at the time he was not aware of the character of this man Adams. The man said that he was waiting for another man from British Columbia, who he called the "old man." After waiting for this "old man." for some time and he did not turn up. Adams made the two acquainted with the proposed plan to break into the bank at St. Albert, and asked the two to come in with him on the job. They consented and went to St. Albert, when Adams went inside the bank to committe the crime and the two waited outside. Ryan added that he had never been in trouble before nor had he been convicted.

he been convicted.

Met Him Betore in Montana.

In answer to His Honor, he said that he met the man Adams two years ago in Montana, when he was working as a miner. His (Ryan's) intentions were good when he came to Canada, as he had money and was looking for a farm. He was a teamster and before going to Montana was at Los Angeles.

The prisoner McIntyre said that he had never been in trouble before, and in this case the man who had committed the crime was at liberty while he was prosecuted. Appealing for leniency, he said that if given the opportunity he would make good.

he was prosecuted. Appearing for leniency, he said that if given the opportunity he would make good.

Makes Pica for Men.

Mr. Robertson asked the judge to believe that the men were telling a true story, as personally from their actions he had reason to believe that they were telling the truth. It seemed that Adams was the man who handled the explosive, the other mendid not know anything about it. The fact that Adams was not with them corroborated their story, as when the alarm was given they got away and Adams followed. Also it was the fact of their being new to the work that saved the safe, as if they had been old offenders or desperate characters they would have fought it out. The person referred to as the "old man" was said to be the leader of a gang of yeggmen or safe blowers, and as he did not turn up Adams had to have someone to help guard the outside of the building and so he picked on the two. Also they had given the police some very valuable information. Undoubtedly the police had done clever work, very clever work, in the case, but there must be some good in the men when they admitted the offence when they were not caught in the act of doing the deed. Also if they were old offenders they would have put up a legal fight to the end. The spirit of Canadian law was to correct a man for his offence, but not to make it impossible to reform. Ryan was suffering from loceomotor staxia and was practically an invalid and he asked the judge to temper justice with mercy on the ground that they were merely tools for some brighter minds.

Exhibits Produced.

Exhibits Produced.

Then came an interesting array of exhibits, produced by Inspector Nicholson of the provnelal police, who gave evidence of the arrest of the two by the police, who found them located in an apartment block on Jasper avenue. He stated that the articles were found in the apartment and the prisoner's bags and acknowledged as belonging to them. There were two bunches of skeleton keys, one found on Ryan and the other in his bar. There were three revolvers of 38 call-bre, loaded, two found on Melntyre and one on the bed in the room. A bandkerchief was picked up in the bark and a similar one was found in Melntyre's bag. There were two fine hack saws for cutting steel, and the bottles of explosive feund in one of the bags.

hack saws for catalog ster, and bottles of explosive found in one of the bags.

Inspector Nicholson said that the prisoners had told him practically the same story as they had the court. They had given valuable information to the police. The police did not know anything of the men, but he understood that "Shorty Adams" was a born fide character.

This concluded the hearing, and it being understood that the two men were to be charged at the police court at 16 the following morning with carrying concealed weapons. His Honor said that he would defer sentence until after the police court case had been dealt with.

The provincial police was represented by Chief McDonell and Inspector Shurer.

Speech on Introduction.

To the Editor of Woman's Page.

Dear Madam.—When introduced to a person is it proper to say "Pleased' to meet you," or "Glad to know you"? Would both of these expressions be in good form?

"Peased to meet you" has been so misused that it is now considered rather provincial to use the phrase. Upon being introduced it is sufficient to merely repeat the name of the person to whom you are presented, reserving any expressions of happiness over the acquaintance until leaving.

Is Ride in Cab Permissible?

Dear Madam—If a man who you only know slightly offers to take you home from a dance or party, is it permissible to ride along with him in a taxi?

It is not usual for a girl to go to a party unles some definite plan has been made for her to be taken home. If, however, she goes to a small affair where the hostess has said she would see to her being taken home and the man assigned by the hostess to take her offers to take her in a taxi there is no reason why she should not ride in it with him. In fact, it is better to have a man you know ever so slightly in a cab with you than to travel about entirely alone at night. Under ordinary circumstances, however, it is better to go in the cars or on foot with a man with whom you are but slightly acquainted.

"Nature" chose Assam

Scientists tell us that Assam in northern India was the original home of the tea plant. Thousands of years ago "Nature" chose the climate and soil of this favored region as most suitable for growing tea.

It is, therefore, natural that the hillside gardens of Assam (see picture) grow the teas which to-day are famous for their flavor, fragrance and rich strength.

It is of these Assam teas, skilfully blended with choice Ceylons, that Red Rose Tea consists. It is this rich Assam strength that users of Red Rose Tea must thank for its splendid economy—for the greater number of cups it yields to the pound, fully one-third more than ordinary teas.

To make certain that these Assam qualities are fully preserved for you we put Red Rose Tea into dust, odor and air proof sealed packages. Red Rose Tea reaches you pure, fresh and full strength-we guarantee it.

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

The question of the appointment of a Bible woman for Edmonton was left over to the next meeting of the committee at the end of the month.

Woman Farmer, Husband in the Trenches, Meets Awful Accident While Preparing Land For Crop

Mrs. E. P. Arnott, of Elk Point, Alberta, Falls Under Disc When Horses Become Frightened—Arm Severed, Eye Go. ged Out and Body Lacerated, She is Discovered by Hired Man—Dragged by Team 100 Yards.

(Special to the Bulletin). Elk Point, Alta, May 1-With her left arm cut off at the shoulder, an eye gouged out, her face badly bruised, and her clothing wound around ed, and her clothing wound around and under the disc which she had been civing, Mrs. E. P. Arnott, wife of Sergt. E. P. Arnott who is serving in the trenches, was discovered by the hired man when he returned from the fields. Mrs. Arnott, in her desire to speed up the farm work in preparation for spring sowing, had offered to take a three-horse team out on the land and run the disc while the man she had hired to help put in the crop was out on another field with another team and a plow.

Everything, apparently went all right until she started for the house in the evening, when the horses became frightened and Mrs. Arnott tell off the disc, in front of the sharp metal discs. She was dragged for one hundred yards to the house, where the horses stopped of their own accord.

The hired man, returning from his work, had put his team in the barn, and, seeing the other team standing in front of the shack, hurried there to find Mrs. Arnott, under the disc, with her clothing tangled and body badly lacerated. He had to lift the machine by main force to extricate her.

Some hope is held out for her recovery, as she has a wonderfully strong constitution.

Tens of Thousands Go To Duma Buildings-Lenine is Very Unpopular

Petrograd, April 29, via London, May 1--An anti-pacifist procession, comprised of some one thousand of maimed, bandaged and convalescent soldiers on foot or in motor lorries, assembled this morning outside the cathedral, despite the keen frost, and paraded the streets to the strains of the Marseilles. Scores of one-legged men bearing military decorations bravely hobbled along on their crutches, while many others were glad to accept the helping arms of nurses. The banners carried in the procession bore inscrip-tions inviting "Lenine and Company" to "Get back to William." to "Get back to William."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out polsons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well. Work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is it one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a dalsy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

whole of the internal poisonous stag-nant matter.

Everyone, whether alling, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire allimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a spiendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, billous spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

HARVARD WILL SAVE $50,000

Cancellation of Crimson Sports Will Keep Down Expenditure by Big Sum

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 1.—Harvard's prompt action in dropping all its organized athletics with the declaration of war will allow the University Athletic Association's books to show a fat profit for the first time since sports were taken up at Cambridge.

The failure to go through the season's schedule in baseball, rowing, track and other sports will save the athletic association approximately $40,000, and when a grand balance is made at the end of the academic year there will be something like $50,000 left for investment or to whatever use the Harvard athletic clons wish to put it.

the Harvard athletic olons wish to put it.

The customary annual cost of keeping Harvard n the athletic limelight is around $150,000. And as the estimated receipts of the Crimson's football schedule last November are $150,000 or somewhat more, it can be seen that the Crimson management appeared to be set on the road to showing a small profit—somewhat of an accomplishment in these days of costly specialized athletics.

But the Harvard solons little dreamed last fall that $50,000 would be still remaining in the athletic office's account when all bills for the current year had been settled.

So if the spring sports had been continued Harvard faced the proposition of laying out something like $60,000, with the prospects of only getting in return $20,000 of this sum.

HENDRIE HORSE MAY NOT START TORONTO, May 1.—Sir John Hendrie's Lone Hand, the stable's only entry in the King's Plate, has not been working satisfactorily, and may not start in the apring classic. Splutter, a consistent performer last season, has been retired.

DYSPEPSIA MOST DIFFICULT TO CURE BUT B.B.B. DOES IT

Dyspepsia is one of the most difficult diseases of the stomach there is

You eat too much; drink too much; make the stomach work overtime. You make it perform more than it should be called on to do. The natural result is that it is going to rebel against the amount of work put on it. It is only a matter of time before dyspepsia fol-lows.

That forty-year-old remedy, Bur-dock Blood Bitters, will cure the dys-pepsia, and will cure it to stay cured as we can prove by the thousands of testimonials we receive from time to

Mr. Neil A. Cameron, Klitarlity, N. S., writes: "I am writing you a few lines to tell you what your great me-dicine Burdock Blood Bitters has done dicine Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled very much with dyspepsia for the past two years. I was recommended all kinds of medicines, but they did not help me any. At last a friend advised me to try a bottle of B.B.B. I took four bottles and was totally cured. I will gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

Sporting Facts and Fancies

President McCaffrey, of the Toronto baseball team, has made arrangements with Lord Northeliffe, publisher of the London Times and other English papers, to publish the International League scores in his papers, so that the boys on the firing line may keep in touch with the doings of the Toronto team. McCaffrey may be doing a service to a select few Toronto boys, but there will certainly be a holier from the thousands of Canadians, not from Toronto, who care less for the results of the Toronto games than they do the football matches between the munition factories. If Lord Northelife would publish the major loague results, instead of, or as well as, the International League games, he would make his paper considerably more popular with the Canadian contingent.

Ban Johnson announces that if the war continues next year, professional baseball will be suspended. Wonder what those Eastern Canadian boosters of sport-at-any-price will have to say to such a suggestion? The old "play fields of Eton" quotation is certainly due for some hard usage in the near future.

It is officially announced that the Ontario Jockey Club will pay the new war tax on admission tickets announced this week by the Ontario Government. The tax is 25 cents instead of the 10 cents that prevailed last year (and which the public paid) and will be paid by the club, so that the price of admission to the public will be $1.50, the same as before the war. The other C. R. A. clubs in Ontario will likely follow the lead of the O. J. C., so that the same rate of admission will apply at Hamilton, Fort Erie, Kenliworth, and the Windsor track, with the clubs paying the war tax.

Connie Mack's team has ceased to be the joke attraction of the American League. When he broke his old machine into bits and started to rebuild, he predicted he would be back in the running in 1917. His word appears to have been placed on a sure thing, for his team is playing snappy, winning baseball. "I have a team that will hit and fight with the best of them. I'll not win a pennant this year, but —— I'll not finish in last place either," Mack declared.

The sale of Fred Merkle to the Cubs is another indication that the first baseman has qualified for the first-aid honors in the National League. Last year when Brookiyn was up at the top fighting for the pennant, Jake Daubert sprained his ankie or hurt his leg or something, and Manager Robinson was up against it for a guardian for the initial sack. He got into communication with McGraw and Muggsy came to his aid. Holke was playing a good game and the boss of the Giants decided to keep him on first and give Merkle the gate. It was a low-down trick to send Fred to Brooklyn, as the only thing he did was to help win the pennant and grab himself a nice chunk of world series money. Merkle was found to be excess baggage this year, however, as Daubert reported in wonderful shape and the twenty-two-player limit made it necessary to get rid of him. Pittsburg tried to get him in a deal, but when Vic Saler broke his leg the Cubs got out the well-known and exceedingly fat bank roll, and Barney Dreyfuss didn't have a chance. Weeghman was willing to pay any price for Merkle, and when he offered Charley Ebbets $6,000 in real money the offer was grabbed. At first an attempt was made to ring in a few players, but Ebbets has his club pared down to twenty-two players now and additional dead wood was not needed. It was another demonstration of the vocal powers of legal tender. But Merkle will be a life-saver for the Cubs. Fred Mitchell was getting gray-haired in his efforts to land a first-sacker and virtually had decided on switching Larry Doyle to that position. Reuther, who got the job after Vic was injured, lacked experience and the playing of the team was affected. Now, however, everything is lovely and Fred will have a chance to hobode with his old pail, Larry Doyle. Merkle broke into fast company in 1907, when he played fifteen games with the Giants. He was utility man in 1908 when he pulled his famous "boner," and in 1909 became the regular first baseman. Fred is only twenty-eight years old and has lots of baseball left in h

RAHANAMOKU IS PLANNING TO COME BACK

Hawaiian Duke Will Enter Sprinting Events at Honolulu Carnival This Summer

Fair Hawaii is planning a great equatic carnival at Honolulu, either on Kamehameha Day, June 11, or on July 4, with most of the expert men and women swimmers of the world competing against the stars of the native talent.

Among those invited or to be invited are Norman Ross of the Olympic club, San Francisco; Teddy Cann and Herbert Vollmer, New York Athletic club; Harry Hebner and Perry McGillivray, Illinois Athletic club, of Chicago; Miss Olga Dorfner of Philadelphia, Miss Clair Galligan, of New Rochelle, Miss Francess Cowells of San Francisco and Miss Dorothy Burns of Los Angeles.

Other star watermen whose ap-

Other star watermen whose appearance is virtually assured are Ludy Langer of the Los Angeles Athletic club, now a resident of Honolulu, and Duke Kahanamoku, George Cunha, Harold Kruger, John Kelli and Clarence Lane, the leading Hawallon with many companies.

and Clarence Lane, the leading Hawaiian swimmers.

Kahanamoku, thought to have retired from racing, has promised to take part in the sprinting events at least, and according to Norman Ross, who swam often with the speedy South Sea Islander, during his recent visit to Honolulu, says that Duke is not only faster than ever, but so much faster at 100 yards that it would not be surprising to see him bring down the world's record for the distance to around 50 seconds. Ross has covered the century in 55 2-5 seconds, yet he states that Kahanamoku simply ran away from him moku eimply ran away from him every time they engaged in friendly brushes.

Especial interest attaches to the contests for fair natators, because the Palama officials are confident of securing the entry of Miss Fannie Durak, of Australia, holder of most of the world's swimming records for women and admittedly the fastest all-round mermaid ever developed. Her presence at the meet will give the home girls the first opportunity to test their skill against that of the Australian, and keen racing should result at the shorter distances, for the American girls have done fifty yards in as good time as their great rival, and Miss Dorfner has also turned 100 yards within an ace of the latter's best mark.

Lightweight Champion Fought Purely Defensive Battle Against His Younger and More Aggressive Opponent—Kilbane Con-stantly Bored in and Was Awarded Eight Out of Ten Rounds

NEW YORK, May 1 .- Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, featherweight champion of America, outpointed Freeddie Welsh, of Wales, world's champion lightweight, in eight of the ten rounds of a boxing match here tonight, according to the opinion of experts at the fingside. It was apparent, however, to the observer, who is familiar with Welsh's policy in safeguarding his lightweight title, which he regards as a valuable financial asset, that the lightweight champion feit it incumbent upon himself to fight a purely defensive battle. Kilbane, young, rugged and aggressive, realizing that to add the lightweight champion for in and used all his natural advantages against his older opponent. To the fight fan, who revels in the slashing, slugging exhibition and expects a title holder to expose his vulnerable points for the edification of his antagonist and the spectators, Welsh did not make a pleasing showing. But the lightweight champion die all that he had set out to do, and did it well. Welsh oane, of Cleveland, featherweight fought a purely defensive fight, and demonstrated that Johnny Kilbane has only an outside chance of copping the lightweight championship so long as Welsh retains possession of his won-derful defensive power. Langford Wins Bout.

A New and Distinctive DOMINION TREAD

Anti-skid efficiency and low mileage cost are two outstanding features of this new DOMINION Tread Tire. The illustration shows how admirably it is suited to resist side slip or loss of traction. The moderate price makes its mileage cost very low, and its dependable anti-skid properties fit it for all-round service.

Because there are so many different kinds of cars and roads and drivers, and no one type of tire can possibly suit all needs, we make four distinct types:

DOMINION TREADS—new, but already they have "made good".

PLAIN TREADS—economical and serviceable.

CHAIN TREADS-the famous, efficient anti-skids.

NOBBY TREADS—"the aristocrats of the road"—90% puncture proof.

Choose with judgment the DOMINION Type that suits your needs, and you will get the most satisfactory service you ever had.

The Allies at Saloniki have made an advance of five hundred yards along a front of a mile, That may mean more than it sounds like. There is a large army at Saloniki, and it has been there long enough to get ready for

The U.S. Congress decided by an overwhelming majority to adopt compulsory service without any preliminary experimenting with voluntary enlistment. Congress apparently intends to really raise an army, not merely to raise half of it and then count up foreign reservists and munition makers to make up the other half, as the Canadian Government did.

The Borden Government has done some pretty foolish things, many of them under fear or instigation of the Nationalists; but it is a fairly safe guess that the ministers are not far enough gone to try to enforce conscription in the other eight provinces, but not in Quebec. They might conceivably adopt some such scheme, on paper, in a moment of political adventureousness, but that they would try to go through with it is searcely possible.

Since June last the British have captured 400 guns and lost It is about time Berlin lodged a protest with Uruguay and Sianr and the other odd neutral states against this harsh mode of making war upon the gentle Huns. If German prisongentle Huns. ers must not be put on hospital ships, lest they be drowned, it must surely be a breach of the new Berlin code for the Allies to commandeer German guns now that they are so badly needed.

Most people who have the blessings of free government are glad to see the Russians attain the privilege of governing themselves for a change. The only regret on the part of Russia's allies is that the Russians did not attain that privilege a generation or so carlier; long enough since to have got over the novelty of the thing and to have developed both the machinery and the habits of an ordered democracy. Russia, even under autocratic rule, was a formidable fighter, and would be a much more capable belligerent under direction of a well-established form of responsible government But Russia in a state of revolution is an anxiety to its allies and by no means a terror to its enemies.

Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux voices the sentiment of a good many thousand Canadian parents and relatives when he asks that the British authorities be requested to free Canada's soldiers in England from the standing temptation of the wet canteen. The attempt of the Ministers to construe this as some sort of an expression of criticism of the conduct of Canadian soldiers oversea is only so much piffle, and is with very bad grace addressed to a father who voiced the protest on behalf of a son in khaki. It would be exactly as sensible to say that the people of Alberta made an attack upon the morals of their own children when they voted to shut up the ar-rooms in this province.

So far the Toronto News has restrained its impetuous desire to know of the ministers who passed the free wheat order-in-council: Are you for or against the British Crown and the British Empire?

The Imperial War Council has expressed the view that the British Dominions should give each other preferential treatment in their tariff schedules. Sir Robert Borden, as a member of the council, might lead the way by cabling Ottawa to cut down the tariff on British goods to the percentage charged before he took office.

The British Government is already planning a production campaign for next year, and Premier Lloyd George declares that if not a ton of food is brought from oversea nobody in England will starve next year. The need of growing food in Canada for the people in Great Britain is no excuse for not raising the half million soldiers our Premier promised.

The Ottawa Journal Press suggests that as Quebec has not provided as many volunteers in proportion to population as the other provinces and would not stand for conscription, compulsory service should be enforced in the other provinces, but not in Quebec. In other words, that the remedy should be applied everywhere but where it is most needed. That surely is a bright idea.

Sir Sam Hughes has been renominated by the Conservatives of Victoria and Haliburton, and accepted the honor in a speech composed largely of very-much-tempered criticism of his late colleagues. It is Sir Sam's view that the Government wasn't improved any when he was kicked out of it, and the Conservatives of Victoria and Haliburton seem to agree with him. The public generally will go so far as to admit that there has not been anything like the improvement that was needed, and which it was hoped the ejection of Sir Sam would bring about.

Sir Sam Hughes says he was the victim of a "nest of traitors" who brought about his dismissal as the first step toward getting rid of Sir Robert Borden. He may be right about some of the ministers wishing to get rid of Sir ters wishing to get rid of Sir Robert, but he assumes too much when he tries to put upon anybody but himself the responsibility for his own dismissal. Sir Sam was dismissed because he made an attack on the British military authorities, which left no logical alternative but to dismiss him or recall the Canadian troops from France. Barring that, there is no evidence that his colleagues would not have stood answerable for his iusane mis-management of the war right to the end of the chapter. Sir Sam cannot pose as a martyr to the disloyalty of his a martyr to the disloyalty of his colleagues. They stood by him with a faithfulness that was positively criminal, alike to the men at the front and to the taxpayers at home.

"Dear clouds, I'll do your bidding, Such prayers shall never cease." On bended knee she watched them go To Victory and Peace.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

The Budget.

From the Winnipeg Free Press.

The finance minister breaks no new ground in his latest budget. The one touch of novelty is the omission of fresh tariff taxation, a confession that nothing more can be wrong from the long-suffering consumers by the usual method. The increase in the excess profits tax is praiseworthy so far as it goes, but it falls far short of what could have been imposed without injustice to private enterprise. Corporations and persons may carn lifteen percent, on their paid-up capital before they are touched by the new levy. For instance, a company with a paid-up capital of a million dollars and net profits of $150.000 will pay $29,000 into the treasury, which is no more than before, if it earns $200.000 it will pay $45,000 in taxes under the new rate, which is gentle, indeed, compared with the corresponding impost in Great Britain. The finance minister rejects the income tax, which is the fical mainstay of the mother country, and which the United States adopted in eace, and will use in wer, to make wealth bear its just share of the purden.

POISONING CASES.

Editor, Bulletin.

Sir—Hundreds of peopie have seen "Mike" who so admirably acted the part of wounded dog at the Horse Show in the Humane Society's ear, decorated with the Blue Cross, to augment the funds of the society and to ald the poor wounded horses on the battlefield. The public will be sorry indeed to hear he has been poisoned near his home on 26th street, and that he died from strychinine. This cowardly way of destroying dogs, of which Mike is by no means the first example, should be dealt with very severely. If every humanely disposed man, woman or child would try and bring the perpetrator or perpetrators of this deed to trial they could be made an example, and so deter the cowards from such action in the future. Everyone will agree that to destroy a dog by shooting because he has perhaps killed a hen or some other animal is in quite a different category, but this poisoning business is so cruel and cowardly, dangerous to children as well as to dogs that the Edmonton Humane Society offered a $10 reward a short time ago to anyone who would give information to the Humane inspector that would lead to the arrest of the person. Poor Mike is only one of many innocent dogs who have suffered and have been lost in this manner.

MR. WOOD'S CIRCULAR

MR. WOOD'S CIRCULAR

Editor Bulletin.

Sir.—We have read, in your issue of this morning, extracts from a circular sent to the various branches of the U.F.A. by their president, Mr. H. W. Wood. Whilst we cannot but welcome the whole trend of the letter, there are expressions in it which seem to us fair neither to Christianity nor to modern Socialism. There are very few leading Christians who would be prepared to call Jesus a teacher of individualism; there are few leading Socialists who adhere to the doctrines of Karl Marx or Henry George without qualification. Christianity to our mind is the only power to heal the class warfare which is inculcated by these men, and which accompanies the present system of unrestricted competition. We think that the Spirit of Christ is wholly on the side of democratic and social progress, and we heartly endorse Mr. Wood's statement that the church should accept responsibility for the solution of our economic problems.

Yours faithfully.

HUNS ARRESTED ON THEIR WAY TO BLOW UP MORGAN

Had Plot to Affect Stock Market For Speculative Benefit.

New York. May 1—Confession was made in court today by Wolf Hirsch, arrested last night with George Meyringer, both Germans, that they were on their way to blow up the offices of J. P. Morgan and Company with a bomb when interrupted by the police. Intention to destroy "a big Wall street institution," tap telegraph trunk line between Chicago, Washington and New York; send out reports of President Wilson's assassination and U.boat raids on the Atlantic coast and then disrupt the wires to prevent denial, all to affect the stock market for speculative benefit, was the plot confessed today, the police declare, by Hirsch and Meyeringer.

In our opinion a sale under the Mechanics' Lien act does not come within the Extra Judicial Setzures act, but the matter is by no means certain, and it would be wise to get an order to sell from a judge, so that there could be no trouble in the future.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

Winnipeg, May 1.—The market opened very quietly and with very little indications of an active session. Winnipeg was $40 to 2 lower, with May at 203, July 248 and October 190. Outs opened 71% too May and 01% for October of 1% to 234 higher.

Chicago opened unchanged for May at 271, July was ½ to $40 up at 227 to 228, and September unchanged to ½c down at 180 to 185%.

Minneapoils opened 1½c lower fer May at 220, July was 2½ to 3½c down at 231 to 230, and September 2½c lower at 182.

The weather throughout the West was clear and cold, with lower temperature-registered. From everywhere during the night, Edmonton, Calgary and Swift Carrent registering 10 degrees of frost.

There were 1100 cars inspected, with 315 cars in sight.

The first market of the May month was an extremely quiet one, and so far as Winnipeg is concerted, a narrow one in yolung of trades. Winnipe prices, held fallity steady mutil one o'clock, when they began to sink to more nearly the level of Minneapolis and Calcago. The declines toward the close were said to be due to some extent to the purchasing of 1, 2 and 3 in Moose Jaw terminals and giving up the May future against it by the Government agents.

Winnipeg May closed 14% lower, July 9% lower and October Sc lower.
Onts closed 14% lower for May, 1ffc lower for July and unchanged for October.
Barley closed 24% lower, and flax 4c lower for May and 5c lower for July.
Minneapolis May wheat closed 14%c lower, July 11%c lower and September 74%c lower.

lower, July 119 le lower and September 79c lower. In the cash market trade was very dull. There was sale for small lots of No. 1 Northern, Nos. 2 and 3 were delivered, and there was limited eaquiry for six and feed wheat from Ontario millers, but no demand for Nos. 4 and 5. Offerings were light.

One of the notable features of the trade during the morning was the wide spread between July wheat in Winnipeg and Chicago and Minneapolis. At the height of the market Winnipeg July was 18c over Minneapolis and 22c over Chicago. Spreads between October, and Chicago and Minneapolis September, were less noticeable.

chicago. May i.—Propects of increased imports from Canada tended today to depress the wheat market here. Bulls were also inclined to be cautious in view of the Washington advices that legislation had been planned looking to emergency authorization of maximum and minimum prices. Besies field reports indicated considerable sanprovement of late in the condition of their crop. Opening prices, which rangs I from the same as yesterday's finish to $\frac{2}{2}$ to $27$, were followed by sharp declines that in some cases amounted to more than 5c.

Corn weakened with wheat Orders to buy were scarce. After opening $\frac{1}{2}$ off to $\frac{1}{2}$ of the market maderweat a decided general sag.

In oats, as in corn, demand was only of a scattered character. The May option, however, continued firm. Packers buying strengthead provisious. Gains were chiefly in lard and ribs.

In the last hour of trading the market plunged headlong downgrade on account of the announcement that the Swiss minister.

In the last hour of trading the market plunged heading downgrade on account of the amouncement that the Swiss minister at Washington, representing Germany, had asked for a conference with President Wilson, that immense effikes were in progress in Germany and that Chaucellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg would make a peace offer on Thursday.

TROOP SHIP IS SUNK: SOLDIERS VERY HEROIG

The Ballarat was 500 feet long, 62 feet beam and 37 feet deep. She was built at Greenock in 1911.

City Markets

London, May 1—The Peninsular and Oriental Line steamship Ballarat, of 11,129 gross tons, which was used as a troop ship, was sunk recently by a German submarine. All the troops were saved.

The Ballarat was carrying troops from Australia to England. The soldiers were rescued by British torpedo boat destroyers and trawlers.

The behavior of the troops on board the Ballarat was splendld, according to the reports, and recalls the heroism displayed at the time of the sinking of the British troop ship Birkenhead of the African coast in 1852.

stir that North Pass & Yukon story had made I was afraid I had done something dreadful. Tell me, is it so? Did I make trouble?"

"You certainly did. O'Neil was furious, and nobody knows yet what the result will be. It—it nearly cost me my head."

"Does he bame me?"
"N-no! He says you're on Gordon's side now. He blames me, or did, until he generously took it on himself."

"What does it all mean? I'm nearly distracted," Natalie's eyes were pleading. "Did you think I spied on pleading. "Did you think I spied on you?"

Dan glowed with embarrassment and something more. "I didn't know what to think," he said. "I was wretchedly miserable, for I was afraid. And yet, I knew you couldn't do such a thing. I told O'Neil I wasn't responsible for what I did or said when with you."

"Mr. Gordon sent me to Omar purposely. He sent me twice, It was I who brought him word that the road was saved. I told all I'd learned because I believed he no longer hated Mr. O'Neil. I was happy to tell all I knew, for he deceived me as he detelves gvery one. I learned the truth too late."

"Why do you stay here?" Dan demanded, hotly.

"Why? I—don't know. Perhaps because I'm afraid to leave. I'm alone—you see mother believes in him; she's completely under his sway, and I can't tell her the sort of man he is. She's happy, and her happiness is worth more to me than my own. But—I shall go away. I can't stand it here much longer."

"Where will you go?"

"I suppose you know I can't get along without you."

"Please, don't! You have been very good and sweet to me, but—"
She shook her dark head. "You couldn't marry me—even if I cared for you in that way."

"Why? I intend to marry you whether you want to or not."

"Oh, Dan, it wouldn't do. You know—about—mother. I've nearly died of shame, and—it would be sure to come up. Somebody would speak of it. sometime."

aDn's blue eyes went cold and smoky as he sald:

"It would take a pretty brave person to montion the subject in my presence. I don't care a whoop for anything Gordon or your family may are to the color of the color of the care and the color of the care and the color of the care a whoop for anything Gordon or your family may

There was a stir in the hall outside, and the speaker turned to behold Curtis Gordon himself in the doorway. The latter in passing had been drawn by the sound of voices and had looked into the library. Recognizing Natalie's caller, he frowned.
"What is this?" he inquired, coldity. "A proposal? Do I interrupt?"
"You do," said Dan; then, after a pause, "I'll finish when you leave."
Gordon entered, and spoke to his stepdaughter.

Dan broke in roughly: "I didn't come to see you, Gordon. You may be an agreeable sight to some people, but you're no golden sunset in my eyes. Eliza flattered you."
Natalie gave a little terrifled cry, for the men were glaring at each other savagely. Neither seemed to hear her.
"Did you read that article?"
"Read it? I wrote it!"
Gordon's face flamed suddenly with rage; he pointed to the door with trembling fingers, and shouted:
"Get ot! I'll not have you here. I discharged you once. Get out!"

Dan smiled mirthlessly, dangerously. In a soft voice he said:
"I haven't finished proposing. I expect to be accepted. You'll pardon me, I know."

SUDDEN DEATH Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uremic poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Amuric"—the latest diseavery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's invalids' Hotel, Budialo, N. Y. When you suffer from hackache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your exceptoms and get his medical opinion without charge, absolutely free. eyuptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This 'Anuric" of Doctor Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric
Tablets. There can be no imitation.
Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stemach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical on when patients complain of backache turbed, too frequent, scanty or painful massage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. "Will you go, you-"
Dan turned to the girl, who after that first outery, had stood as if spell-bound, her face pale, her eyes shin-

"Natalie dear," he said, earnestly.
"you can't live in the same house with

Gordon uttered an inarticulate loving you with all my heart. Marry me, and we'll go—''

Gordon uttered an inarticulate sound and came forward with his hands working hungrily.
"Don't interrupt!" warned Dan, over his shoulder, and his white teeth gleaming in sudden contrast with his tan. "No man could love you as I do, dear—'' Gordon's clutch fell upon him and tightened. Dan stiffened and his words ceased. Then the touch upon his flesh became unbearable. Whirling, he wrenched himself free. He was like a wild animal now; body and spirit had leaped into rebellion at contact with Gordon. His long resentment burst its bounds; his lean muscles quivered. His frame trembled as if it restrained some tremendous pressure from within.
"Don't do that!" he cried, hoarsely, and brushed the sleeve where his enemy's fingers had rested, as if it had been soiled.
Gordon snarled, and stretched out his hand a second time; but the Gordon snarled, and stretched out his hand a second time; but the younger man raised his fist and struck. Once, twice, again and again he flung his bony knuckles into that purple, distorted face, which he loathed as a thing unclean. He battered down the big man's guard; right and left he rained blows, stepping forward as his victim fell back. Gordon reeled, he pawed wildly, he swung his sarms, but they encountered nothing. Yet he was a heavy man, and, although half stunned by the suddenonslaught, he managed to retain his onslaught, he managed to retain his feet until he brought up against the feet until he brought up against the heavy mahogany reading-table in the centre of the room. His retreat ended there; another blow and his knees buckled, his arms sagged. Then Dan summoned all his strength and swung. "Here! This'll do for a wrap."

Dan whipped his fur overcoat from a chair and flung it about her.

"My hat, too!" He crushed his gray Stetson over her dark hair and, slipping his arm about her shoulders, urged her toward the hall.

"Mother! She'll never—"

"We'll call on her together. I'll do the talking for both of us." He jerked the front door open with a force that threatened to wrench it from its hinges, and thrust his companion out into the bracing cold. Then, as Gordon's Japanese butler came running from the rear of the house, he turned.

"Hey, you!" he cried sharply. "The boss has gone on a little visit. Don't stumble over him. And tell Mrs. Gordon that Mr. and Mrs. Appleton will call on her in a few days—Mr. and Mrs Dan Appleton, of Omar!"

It was but a few steps to the pier; Dan foit that he was treading on air, for the flerce, unreasoning joy of possession was surging through his veins. His old indecision and doubt was gone, and the men he met recoiled before his hostile glance, staring after him in bewilderment.

But, as he lifted Natalie down into the launch he felt her shaking violently, and of a sadden his selfish exultation gave way to a tender soleitude.

He crushed her to him, he buried his face in her neck, mumbling her name over and over; and neither of them knew that he was rapturously kissing the coonskin collar of his own greatcoat. The launchman, motor crank in hand, paused, staring; he was still open-mouthed when Dan, catching sight of him, shouted:

"What's the matter, idiot? Is your back broken!"

"Yes— No, sir!" The fellow spun the fly-wheel vigorously: the little craft began to vibrate and quiver and then swung from shore.

A moment later and the engineman yelled. He came stumbling forward and seized the steering-wheel as the boat grazed a buoy.

"That's right, you steer." Dan laughed, relaxing his hold. To Natalle he said, "There's a zky-pilot in Omar," and pressed her to him.

"It's a long way to Omar," she answered, then hid her face against his breast and said, meekly, "There's one in Cortex, too, and he's much nearer."

Eliza's greeting to the runaways was as warm as their hearts could they could speak, and took Natalie in

The two girls kissed each other, wept,

Dan was plainly swollen with pride.
"I walloped him, Sis!" he told her.

It came over me so suddenly! I—I can't realize that he's mine." She turned her eyes upon him with an expression that made his chest swell proudly.

"Gee!" he exclaimed, "If I'd known

There followed a recital of the day's events, zestful, foll of happy digressions, endless; for the couple, after the manner of lovers, took it for granted that Eliza was caught up into the seventh heaven along with them. Dan was drank with delight, and his bride seemed dizzied by the change the seventh neaven along with them. Dan was drunk with delight, and his bride seemed dizzied by the change which had overtaken her. She looked upon it as miraculous, almost unbelievable, and under the spell of her happiness her real self asserted itself. Those cares and humiliations which had reacted to make her cold and self-contained disappeared, giving place to an impetuous girlishness that distracted her newly made husband and delighted Eliza. The last lingering doubts that Dan's sister had cherished were cleared away.

It was not until the bride had been banished to prepare for dinner that Eliza thought to ask her brother: "Have you told Mr. O'Neil?"

"I—suppose so," he agreed, reluctantly, and picked up his hat. "And yet—I—I wonder if I'd better after all. Den't you think it would sound nicer coming from some one else?"

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP YOU SHOULD USE MILBURN'S HEART and NERVE PILLS

Sleeplessness is caused by the nervous system becoming deranged.

Perhaps too much worry has gotten on your nerves, perhaps you have overworked yourself, or have been excessive in your use of tobacco, but whatever the cause, the nervous system must be built up again before restful sleep can be assured.

Those whose rest is broken into by frightful dreams, nightmares, sinking and smothering sensations, who wake up in the morning as thred as they went to bed can have their old, peaceful, undisturbed, refreshing sleep back again by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. John Sloan, Haley Station, Ont., writes: "Over a year ago I was very nervous. I could not sleep at night, and I would faint at the slightest fright. I tried several doctors, but they did me practically no good. I noticed your advertisement, and immediately tried Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am proud to say they cured me."

One day when Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, came home to his hollow stump bungalow, having been out riding in his automobile looking for an adventure, he heard, as soon as he reached his front stoop, a most joily tune being played. So folly was it that the bunny rabbit uncle had to dance a few steps before he opened the door.

"Well, well: What's all this masic?" he asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, his muskrat lady housekeeper. "Are you having a party, and didn't invite me?" "Oh, nothing of the sort," laughed Nurse Jane, coming ont of the parlor, where the music sounded loudest. "You see, I just had a new phonograph sent home from the five-and-six cent store, and I'm trying some of the records. Isn't it nice?" And then she put a new needle and thread in the phonograph—Oh, please excuse me! My little girl says they don't use thread in the phonograph—only needles. Anyhow Nurse Jane put in a new needle, and the machine played such a joily tune that Uncle Wiggily just had to catch hold of the muskrat lady around the waist and, while she carried her long tail over her paw, away they danced together to the tune of "Tiddily-iddily-um!"
